

Smithsonian Institution

Archives of American Art

Charles Burchfield

Extracted on Apr-18-2024 08:07:49

The Smithsonian Institution thanks all digital volunteers that transcribed and reviewed this material. Your work enriches Smithsonian collections, making them available to anyone with an interest in using them.

The Smithsonian Institution (the "Smithsonian") provides the content on this website (transcription.si.edu), other Smithsonian websites, and third-party sites on which it maintains a presence ("SI Websites") in support of its mission for the "increase and diffusion of knowledge." The Smithsonian invites visitors to use its online content for personal, educational and other non-commercial purposes. By using this website, you accept and agree to abide by the following terms.

- If sharing the material in personal and educational contexts, please cite the Archives of American Art as source of the content and the project title as provided at the top of the document. Include the accession number or collection name; when possible, link to the Archives of American Art website.
- If you wish to use this material in a for-profit publication, exhibition, or online project, please contact Archives of American Art or transcribe@si.edu

For more information on this project and related material, contact the Archives of American Art. See this project and other collections in the Smithsonian Transcription Center.

-3-

for a closer look. I guess the answer would be a helicopter. I am anxious for the time when helicopters will come down in price and can be handled easily by an ordinary driver. I feel sure that time will come, and that I will run one before I die. It's one of the things I think I simply must do or my sojourn on this earth will not be complete.

We enjoyed our trip, got to visit our various children and grand children along the way (as far as Los Angeles) and saw many strange and fantastic natural wonders - But - it is grand to be back in my own country, (which is buried in a beautiful fall of snow) - and I can hardly wait until I can get out in my favorite woods, set up my easel, and go to work - the long abstinence from it, enforced by my stay in the hospital and the Retrospective, has caused my brain to seethe with ideas - a good result!

We do hope you can find your way to Gardenville in the near future -

Thanks again for your letter -

Cordially yours

Charles Burchfield.

-3-
for a closer look. I guess the answer would be a helicopter. I am anxious for the time when helicopters will come down in price and can be handled easily by an ordinary driver. I feel sure that time will come, and that I will run one before I die. It's one of the things I think I simply must do or my sojourn on this earth will not be complete.
We enjoyed our trip, got to visit our various children and grand children along the way (as far as Los Angeles) and saw many strange and fantastic natural wonders - But - it is grand to be back in my own country, (which is buried in a beautiful fall of snow) - and I can hardly wait until I can get out in my favorite woods, set up my easel, and go to work - the long abstinence from it, enforced by my stay in the hospital and the Retrospective, has caused my brain to seethe with ideas - a good result!
We do hope you can find your way to Gardenville in the near future -
Thanks again for your letter.
Cordially yours
Charles Burchfield.

Charles Burchfield

Transcribed and Reviewed by Digital Volunteers

Extracted Apr-18-2024 08:07:49

Smithsonian Institution

Archives of American Art

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.

Join us!

The Transcription Center: <https://transcription.si.edu>

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/SmithsonianTranscriptionCenter>

On Twitter: @TranscribeSI

Connect with the Smithsonian

Smithsonian Institution: www.si.edu

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/Smithsonian>

On Twitter: @smithsonian