Smithsonian Institution
Archives of American Art

Abraham Rattner

Extracted on Mar-29-2024 03:26:21

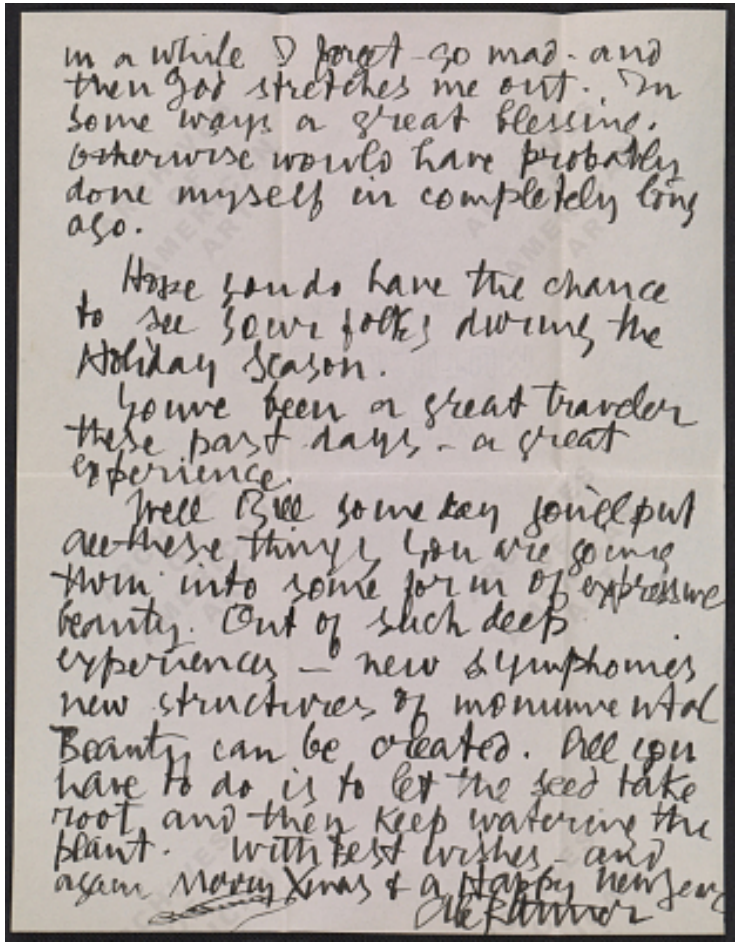

The Smithsonian Institution thanks all digital volunteers that transcribed and reviewed this material. Your work enriches Smithsonian collections, making them available to anyone with an interest in using them.

The Smithsonian Institution (the "Smithsonian") provides the content on this website (transcription.si.edu), other Smithsonian websites, and third-party sites on which it maintains a presence ("SI Websites") in support of its mission for the "increase and diffusion of knowledge." The Smithsonian invites visitors to use its online content for personal, educational and other non-commercial purposes. By using this website, you accept and agree to abide by the following terms.

- If sharing the material in personal and educational contexts, please cite the Archives of American Art as source of the content and the project title as provided at the top of the document. Include the accession number or collection name; when possible, link to the Archives of American Art website.
- If you wish to use this material in a for-profit publication, exhibition, or online project, please contact Archives of American Art or transcribe@si.edu

For more information on this project and related material, contact the Archives of American Art. See this project and other collections in the Smithsonian Transcription Center.

in a while I forget - go mad - and then God stretches me out. In some ways a great blessing, otherwise would have probably done myself in completely long ago.
Hope you do have the chance to see your folks during the Holiday Season.
Youve been a great traveler these past days - a great experience.
Well Bill someday you'll put all these things you are going thru into some form of expressive beauty. Out of such deep experiences - new symphonies new structures of monumental Beauty can be created. All you have to do is to let the seed take root and then keep watering the plant. With Best wishes - and again Merry Xmas & a Happy New Year
Best Wishes
Abe Rattner
[[in different hand]] Bethany [[?]]

Abraham Rattner
Transcribed and Reviewed by Digital Volunteers
Approved by Smithsonian Staff
Extracted Mar-29-2024 03:26:21

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities.Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.

Join us!
The Transcription Center: https://transcription.si.edu
On Facebook: https://www.facebook.com/SmithsonianTranscriptionCenter
On Twitter: @TranscribeSI

Connect with the Smithsonian
Smithsonian Institution: www.si.edu
On Facebook: https://www.facebook.com/Smithsonian
On Twitter: @smithsonian