

Smithsonian Institution

Archives of American Art

Joseph Lindon Smith diary 2

Extracted on Apr-19-2024 03:24:19

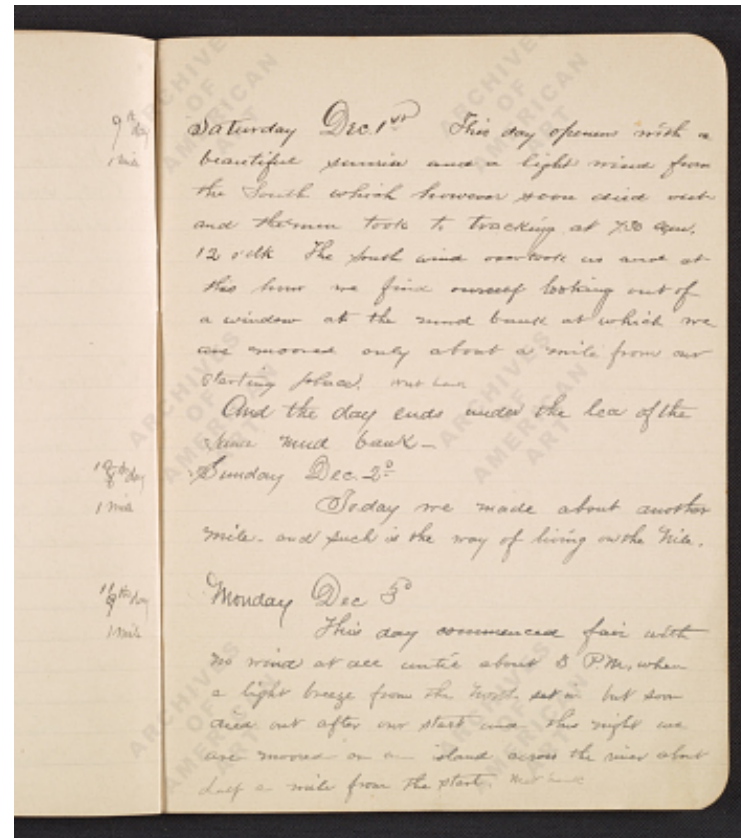

The Smithsonian Institution thanks all digital volunteers that transcribed and reviewed this material. Your work enriches Smithsonian collections, making them available to anyone with an interest in using them.

The Smithsonian Institution (the "Smithsonian") provides the content on this website (transcription.si.edu), other Smithsonian websites, and third-party sites on which it maintains a presence ("SI Websites") in support of its mission for the "increase and diffusion of knowledge." The Smithsonian invites visitors to use its online content for personal, educational and other non-commercial purposes. By using this website, you accept and agree to abide by the following terms.

- If sharing the material in personal and educational contexts, please cite the Archives of American Art as source of the content and the project title as provided at the top of the document. Include the accession number or collection name; when possible, link to the Archives of American Art website.
- If you wish to use this material in a for-profit publication, exhibition, or online project, please contact Archives of American Art or transcribe@si.edu

For more information on this project and related material, contact the Archives of American Art. See this project and other collections in the Smithsonian Transcription Center.

9th day 1 mile
 Saturday Dec. 1st. This day opens with a beautiful sunrise and a light wind from the South which however soon died out and the men took to tracking at 7.30 a.m. 12 o'clock The South wind overtook us and at this hour we find ourself looking out of a window at the mud bank at which we are moored only about a mile from our starting place. West bank And the day ends under the lee of the Same mud bank -
 10th day 1 mile
 Sunday Dec 2d.
 Today we made about another mile - and such is the way of living on the Nile.
 11th day 1 mile
 Monday Dec 3d
 This day commenced fair with no wind at all until about 3 P.M. when a light breeze from the North set in but soon died out after our start and this night we are moored on an island across the river about half a mile from the start. West bank

Joseph Lindon Smith diary 2
 Transcribed and Reviewed by Digital Volunteers
 Approved by Smithsonian Staff
 Extracted Apr-19-2024 03:24:19

Smithsonian Institution

Archives of American Art

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.

Join us!

The Transcription Center: <https://transcription.si.edu>

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/SmithsonianTranscriptionCenter>

On Twitter: @TranscribeSI

Connect with the Smithsonian

Smithsonian Institution: www.si.edu

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/Smithsonian>

On Twitter: @smithsonian