

Smithsonian Institution

Archives Center - NMAH

Leo Baekeland Diary Volume 26, 1918-1919

Extracted on Mar-29-2024 06:11:05

The Smithsonian Institution thanks all digital volunteers that transcribed and reviewed this material. Your work enriches Smithsonian collections, making them available to anyone with an interest in using them.

The Smithsonian Institution (the "Smithsonian") provides the content on this website (transcription.si.edu), other Smithsonian websites, and third-party sites on which it maintains a presence ("SI Websites") in support of its mission for the "increase and diffusion of knowledge." The Smithsonian invites visitors to use its online content for personal, educational and other non-commercial purposes. By using this website, you accept and agree to abide by the following terms.

- If sharing the material in personal and educational contexts, please cite the Archives Center - NMAH as source of the content and the project title as provided at the top of the document. Include the accession number or collection name; when possible, link to the Archives Center - NMAH website.
- If you wish to use this material in a for-profit publication, exhibition, or online project, please contact Archives Center - NMAH or transcribe@si.edu

For more information on this project and related material, contact the Archives Center - NMAH. See this project and other collections in the Smithsonian Transcription Center.

74

supper and to write letter to Celine and another telegram addressed to Washington Evening Albert went ashore. Magnificent moonlight - full moon. Everything on the water so quiet and beautiful and little Cygnet dancing lightly on the silvered waves. I sit on deck alone thinking of so many things which have happened and the story of my little life, started so humbly then interwoven with that of Celine and now the future of our children. Jan 17.

A good nights rest. Up at sunset. a strong South Eastern Breeze blowing

[[end page]]
[[start page]]

75

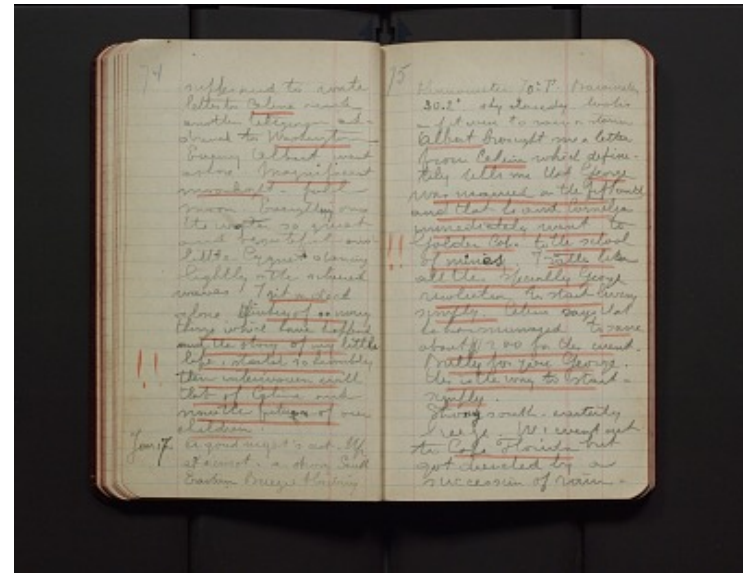

Thermometer 70:F. Barometer 30.2". sky cloudy. looks as if it were to rain or storm Albert brought me a letter from Celine which definitely tells me that George was married on the fifteenth and that he and Cornelia immediately went to Golden Col. to the school of mines.

[[red !! in left margin]]

I rather like all this specially George revolution to start living simply.

Celine says that he has managed to save about $1200 for the event. Bully for you George. this is the way to start simply.

Strong south - easterly breeze. We went out to Cape Florida but got drenched by a succession of rain -

Leo Baekeland Diary Volume 26, 1918-1919
Transcribed and Reviewed by Digital Volunteers
Extracted Mar-29-2024 06:11:05

Smithsonian Institution

Archives Center - NMAH

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.

Join us!

The Transcription Center: <https://transcription.si.edu>

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/SmithsonianTranscriptionCenter>

On Twitter: @TranscribeSI

Connect with the Smithsonian

Smithsonian Institution: www.si.edu

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/Smithsonian>

On Twitter: @smithsonian