

Smithsonian Institution

Archives Center - NMAH

Leo Baekeland Diary Volume 27, 1919

Extracted on Apr-17-2024 12:20:43

The Smithsonian Institution thanks all digital volunteers that transcribed and reviewed this material. Your work enriches Smithsonian collections, making them available to anyone with an interest in using them.

The Smithsonian Institution (the "Smithsonian") provides the content on this website (transcription.si.edu), other Smithsonian websites, and third-party sites on which it maintains a presence ("SI Websites") in support of its mission for the "increase and diffusion of knowledge." The Smithsonian invites visitors to use its online content for personal, educational and other non-commercial purposes. By using this website, you accept and agree to abide by the following terms.

- If sharing the material in personal and educational contexts, please cite the Archives Center - NMAH as source of the content and the project title as provided at the top of the document. Include the accession number or collection name; when possible, link to the Archives Center - NMAH website.
- If you wish to use this material in a for-profit publication, exhibition, or online project, please contact Archives Center - NMAH or transcribe@si.edu

For more information on this project and related material, contact the Archives Center - NMAH. See this project and other collections in the Smithsonian Transcription Center.

8

May etc. then rushed to court. Redman testified all day. Things are going well he is now adroitly prevaricating Neave and the man whom I imagined a candid witness a few days ago Neave proves a liar and I now doubt as to all his testimony about the way he runs his manufacturing. All this will give us a chance to show him up. Things look more pleasant and hopeful to day. Neave is in Philadelphia. May Swan Rossi and Muller in court to listen and see the samples. I have conceived an improved way of making C2O and lightproof material and wrote a letter of directions to Gothelf which I first let read to Rossi. They made Bakelite in court and I took a sample of the A for future use. I feel very hopeful again to day. Left court at 5 P.M. then went to confer with Toch at his house relative solubility of resins etc. Busy in my room at the Club till ~~10~~ ~~11~~ P.M. studying and calculating testimony. ~~Up at 4~~

[[end page]]

[[start page]]

9

April 7. Up at 4 A.M. studying testimony of Redman then to Neave's office at 9:30 A.M. Then to

Leo Baekeland Diary Volume 27, 1919
Transcribed and Reviewed by Digital Volunteers
Extracted Apr-17-2024 12:20:43

Smithsonian Institution

Archives Center - NMAH

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.

Join us!

The Transcription Center: <https://transcription.si.edu>

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/SmithsonianTranscriptionCenter>

On Twitter: @TranscribeSI

Connect with the Smithsonian

Smithsonian Institution: www.si.edu

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/Smithsonian>

On Twitter: @smithsonian