November 18, 1914.

My dear Waldo:

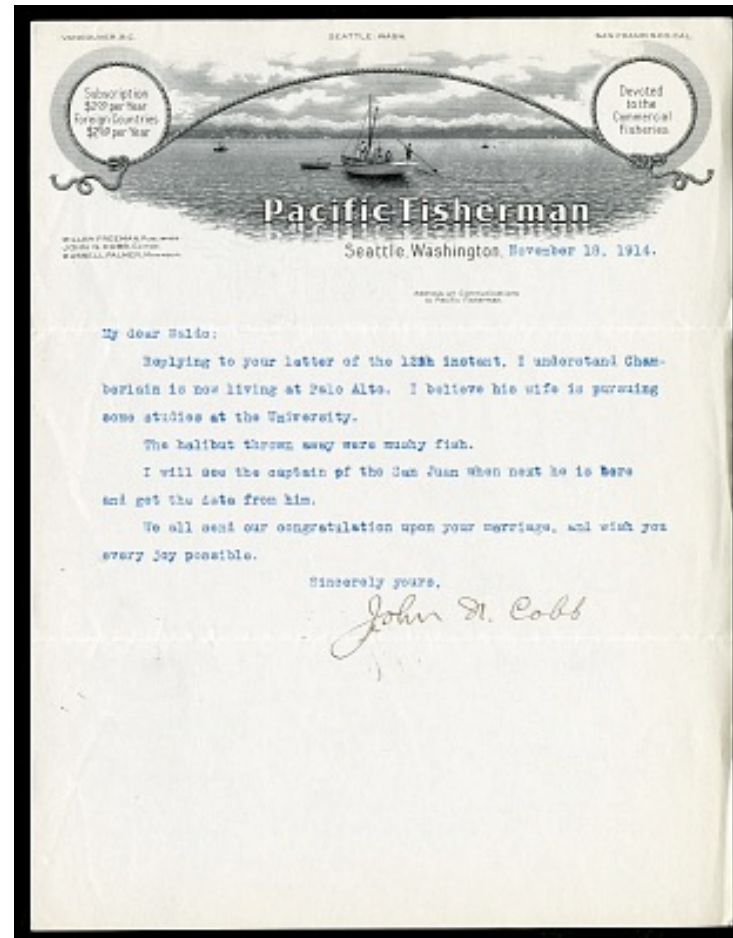

Replying to your letter of the 12th instant, I understand Chamberlain is now living at Palo Alto. I believe his wife is pursuing some studies at the University.

The halibut thrown away were mushy fish.

I will see the Captain of the San Juan when next he is here and get the data from him.

We also send our congratulation upon your marriage, and wish you every joy possible.

Sincerely yours,
[[Signature of John N. Cobb]]

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.
