Smithsonian Institution
Archives Center - NMAH

Charles Francis Hall Journal August 1861 to October 1861

Extracted on Mar-28-2024 08:30:58

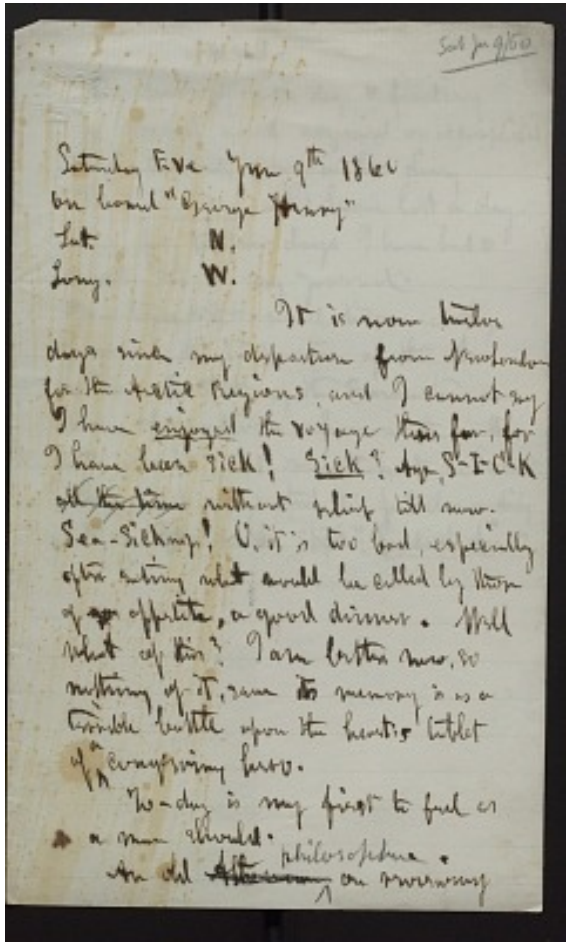

The Smithsonian Institution thanks all digital volunteers that transcribed and reviewed this material. Your work enriches Smithsonian collections, making them available to anyone with an interest in using them.

The Smithsonian Institution (the "Smithsonian") provides the content on this website (transcription.si.edu), other Smithsonian websites, and third-party sites on which it maintains a presence ("SI Websites") in support of its mission for the "increase and diffusion of knowledge." The Smithsonian invites visitors to use its online content for personal, educational and other non-commercial purposes. By using this website, you accept and agree to abide by the following terms.

- If sharing the material in personal and educational contexts, please cite the Archives Center - NMAH as source of the content and the project title as provided at the top of the document. Include the accession number or collection name; when possible, link to the Archives Center - NMAH website.
- If you wish to use this material in a for-profit publication, exhibition, or online project, please contact Archives Center - NMAH or transcribe@si.edu

For more information on this project and related material, contact the Archives Center - NMAH. See this project and other collections in the Smithsonian Transcription Center.

^[[[[underlined]] Sat Ju 9/60 [[/underlined]]]]
Saturday Eve Jun 9th 1860
on board "George Henry"
Lat. N.
Long. W.
It is now twelve days since my departure from Newfoundland for the Arctic Regions and I cannot say I have [[underlined]] enjoyed [[/underlined]] the voyage thus far, for I have been sick! Sick? Aye, S-I-C-K [[strikethrough]] all the time [[/strikethrough]] without relief till now. Sea-sickness! O, it's too bad, especially after eating what would be called by those of appetite, a good dinner. Well what of this? I am better now, so nothing of it, save in memory in as a terrible battle upon the heart's tablet of ^[[a]] conquering hero.
To-day is my first to feel as a man should.
An old [[strikethrough]] Athenean [[/strikethrough]] ^[[Philosopher]] on reviewing

Charles Francis Hall Journal August 1861 to October 1861
Transcribed and Reviewed by Digital Volunteers
Extracted Mar-28-2024 08:30:58

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities.Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.

Join us!
The Transcription Center: https://transcription.si.edu
On Facebook: https://www.facebook.com/SmithsonianTranscriptionCenter
On Twitter: @TranscribeSI

Connect with the Smithsonian
Smithsonian Institution: www.si.edu
On Facebook: https://www.facebook.com/Smithsonian
On Twitter: @smithsonian