

Smithsonian Institution

National Museum of African American History and Culture

Playbill for Ma Rainey's Black Bottom

Extracted on Jan-30-2023 02:47:23

The Smithsonian Institution thanks all digital volunteers that transcribed and reviewed this material. Your work enriches Smithsonian collections, making them available to anyone with an interest in using them.

The Smithsonian Institution (the "Smithsonian") provides the content on this website (transcription.si.edu), other Smithsonian websites, and third-party sites on which it maintains a presence ("SI Websites") in support of its mission for the "increase and diffusion of knowledge." The Smithsonian invites visitors to use its online content for personal, educational and other non-commercial purposes. By using this website, you accept and agree to abide by the following terms.

- If sharing the material in personal and educational contexts, please cite the National Museum of African American History and Culture as source of the content and the project title as provided at the top of the document. Include the accession number or collection name; when possible, link to the National Museum of African American History and Culture website.
- If you wish to use this material in a for-profit publication, exhibition, or online project, please contact National Museum of African American History and Culture or transcribe@si.edu

For more information on this project and related material, contact the National Museum of African American History and Culture. See this project and other collections in the Smithsonian Transcription Center.

[[double line]]

Lawrence Theatre. Leader of the Pack, which played at the Bottom Line in Greenwich Village stars Ellie Greenwich, who wrote such song hits as "Chapel of Love" and "Da Do Run Run," playing herself. The score includes songs by both Miss Greenwich and other popular composers. The show has been booked into the Ambassador Theatre and is expected to open in the winter.

How's this for a Christmas present? Just in time for the holidays, Yul Brynner is slated to return in his classic role of the King in Rodgers and Hammerstein's The King and I.

Among plays, one highlight is already on the boards-Dustin Hoffman's return to the Broadhurst Theatre in Arthur Miller's Death of a Salesman. This production is a revival of a revival--the same Salesman that Mr. Hoffman starred in last spring to great acclaim.

Another bright spot is the return of the Royal Shakespeare Company for a limited run, opening Oct. 14 at the Gershwin Theatre. The highly regarded troupe will present a double bill of Cyrano de Bergerac and Much Ado About Nothing, both starring Derek Jacobi, of I Claudius television fame, and Sinead Cusack, a much heralded British actress who will be making her New York debut, also has the distinction of being married to Jeremy Irons, who created a sensation in New York last season in The Real Thing.

Yet another British import is Kipling, a one-man play starring Alec McCowen, opening Oct. 10 at the Royale Theatre for a limited engagement. Mr. McCowen is known to New York audiences for his performance in another one-man theatre piece, The Gospel According to St. Mark. A combination of Rudyard Kipling's writings and musings on his life, Kipling was written by Brian Clark, the author of Whose Life Is It Anyway?

What about new American plays? The good news is there will be three this fall, Ma Rainey's Black Bottom, Alone Together and Boo.

Written by August Wilson, Ma Rainey's Black Bottom is the kind of new American play that producers love: It comes to Broadway from the Yale Repertory Theatre, where it accumulated a stack of rave reviews last spring. It opens Oct. 11 at the Cort Theatre. Theresa Merritt will play Gertrude (Ma) Rainey, the blues singer who was one of the first black performers to get a recording contract.

[[left image - black & white photograph of three women]]

The new musical, Quilters, about pioneer women who told their stories in quilts.

[[right image - black & white photograph of two actors]]

In time for Christmas, Yul Brynner back in his classic role in The King and I.

14

[[end page]]

[[start page]]

[[advertisement]]

LaGuardia to Chicago
Take your pick.

[[images - 10 red apples, each with a time on it: 7 am, 8 am, 9 am, 10 am, 11 am, 12 noon, 1 pm, 2 pm, 3 pm, 4 pm, 5 pm, 6 pm, 7pm, and 8 pm]]

United gives the Big Apple a big schedule to Chicago. Especially from close-in LaGuardia.

Every hour on the hour from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

And when you add in United's Mileage Plus frequent-flyer bonus program and advance check-in, you can see why more people fly United between New York and Chicago.

Call your Travel Agent or Corporate Travel Manager. Or call United at 212-624-1500 in New Jersey.

Partners in Travel with Westin Hotels.

You're not just flying, you're flying the friendly skies.

[[image - color drawing of a United aircraft]]
fly the friendly skies[[registered trademark symbol]] ]]

United

[[/advertisement]]

Playbill for Ma Rainey's Black Bottom
Transcribed and Reviewed by Digital Volunteers
Extracted Jan-30-2023 02:47:23

Smithsonian Institution

National Museum of African American History and Culture

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.

Join us!

The Transcription Center: <https://transcription.si.edu>

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/SmithsonianTranscriptionCenter>

On Twitter: @TranscribeSI

Connect with the Smithsonian

Smithsonian Institution: www.si.edu

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/Smithsonian>

On Twitter: @smithsonian