March 7th 1922

Mr. Ernest R. Rolph,
c/o Messrs. Sproatt & Rolph,
36 North street
Toronto, Canada.

Dear Mr. Rolph,-

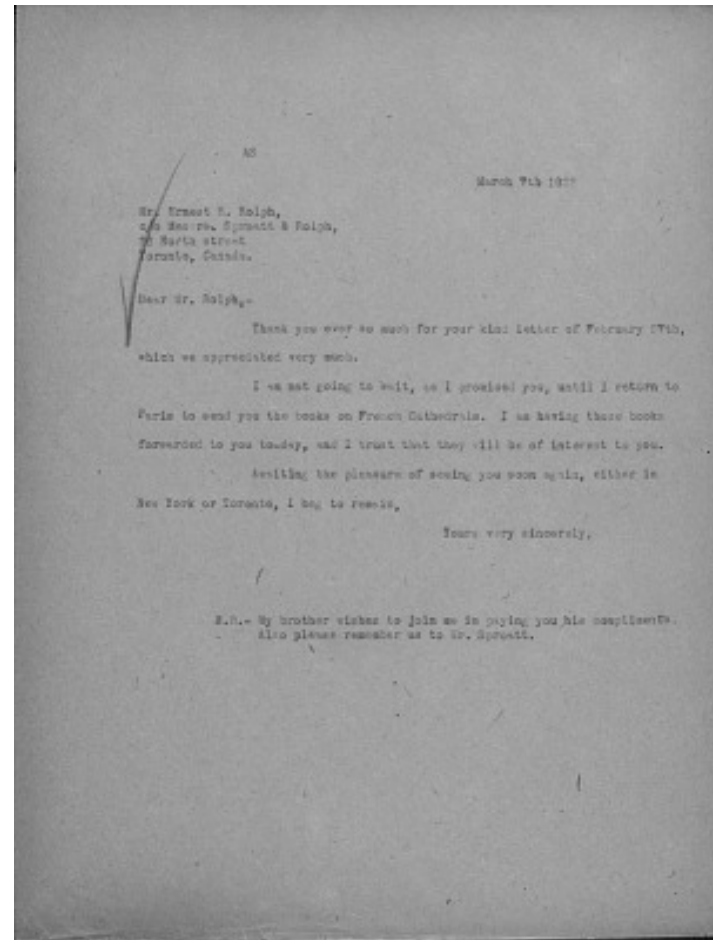

Thank you ever so much for your kind letter of February 27th, which we appreciated very much.

I am not going to wait, as I promised you, until I return to Paris to send you the books on French Cathedrals. I am having those books forwarded to you to-day, and I trust that they will be of interest to you.

Awaiting the pleasure of seeing you soon again, either in New York or Toronto, I beg to remain,

Yours very sincerely,

N.B.- My brother wishes to join me in paying you his compliments. Also please remember us to Mr. Sproatt.

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.
