May 2nd, 1918.

Mr George Tyler,
1717 Eye Street,
Washington, D.C.

My dear George:-

This is to let you know that I expect to sail on the 8th; if I say I expect it is because the exact date of sailing is never known except a day or two in advance and I beg you to let me know whether you still wish me to take with me your trunk and valise.

I know that you will be pleased to hear that I have excellent news from my boy.

With all kinds of kind messages to the entire Tyler family, believe me as ever,

Most cordialy yours,

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.
