

Smithsonian Institution

National Museum of African American History and Culture

Catalogue of the Hampton Institute, 1886-87

Extracted on Apr-19-2024 05:30:42

The Smithsonian Institution thanks all digital volunteers that transcribed and reviewed this material. Your work enriches Smithsonian collections, making them available to anyone with an interest in using them.

The Smithsonian Institution (the "Smithsonian") provides the content on this website (transcription.si.edu), other Smithsonian websites, and third-party sites on which it maintains a presence ("SI Websites") in support of its mission for the "increase and diffusion of knowledge." The Smithsonian invites visitors to use its online content for personal, educational and other non-commercial purposes. By using this website, you accept and agree to abide by the following terms.

- If sharing the material in personal and educational contexts, please cite the National Museum of African American History and Culture as source of the content and the project title as provided at the top of the document. Include the accession number or collection name; when possible, link to the National Museum of African American History and Culture website.
- If you wish to use this material in a for-profit publication, exhibition, or online project, please contact National Museum of African American History and Culture or transcribe@si.edu

For more information on this project and related material, contact the National Museum of African American History and Culture. See this project and other collections in the Smithsonian Transcription Center.

HAMPTON INSTITUTE. [[line]]

All back school bills must be paid up before re-entering the school in October.

Scholarship Letters

The estimated cost of instructing each student, either in day or night school, for one year, is seventy dollars, as has been said. Owing to the inability of students to provide this amount it is remitted to them, and the friends of the colored race are solicited to provide a scholarship of seventy dollars for each pupil. Any student may be dropped from the school who shall be considered unworthy of the scholarship aid which he may need to secure his education. Students are expected to write letters of acknowledgement and thanks to their benefactors. The tuition, or scholarship donation, is for the salaries of teachers or cost of education; it has nothing to do with board-bills. State students have free tuition, but not free board, and are expected to pay as others, in cash and labor, ten dollars per month for board.

School for Bible Study

The Pastor's Class was started in October, 1884, to aid the colored pastors in the vicinity of Hampton and other young men fitting for the ministry who may desire instruction in Biblical studies.

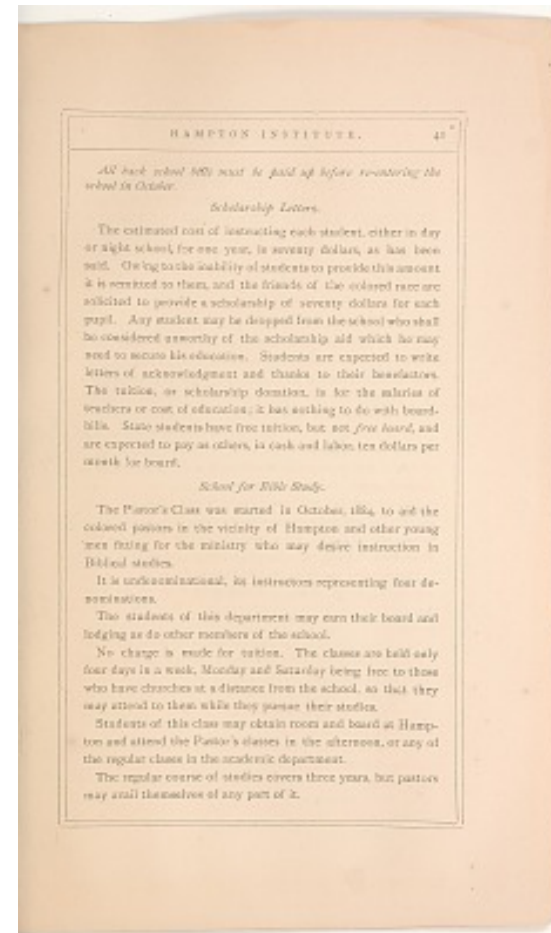

It is undenominational, its instructors representing four denominations.

The students of this department may earn their board and lodging as do other members of the school.

No charge is made for tuition. The classes are held only four days in a week, Monday and Saturday being free to those who have churches at a distance from the school, so that they may attend to them while they pursue their studies.

Students of this class may obtain room and board at Hampton and attend the Pastor's classes in the afternoon, or any of the regular classes in the academic department.

The regular course of studies covers three years, but pastors may avail themselves of any part of it.

Catalogue of the Hampton Institute, 1886-87
Transcribed and Reviewed by Digital Volunteers
Extracted Apr-19-2024 05:30:42

Smithsonian Institution

National Museum of African American History and Culture

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.

Join us!

The Transcription Center: <https://transcription.si.edu>

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/SmithsonianTranscriptionCenter>

On Twitter: @TranscribeSI

Connect with the Smithsonian

Smithsonian Institution: www.si.edu

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/Smithsonian>

On Twitter: @smithsonian