Planned Week-end Leisure Activities

[[image - black & white photograph of six boys]]

In March, 1951, the Department of the Interior started the twelfth annual session of the six weeks course for nature lovers. Six boys registered for the course, which consists of six observation walks and instructions given by naturalists. On May 25th these boys will graduate along with an inter-racial group of children and will receive Certificates of Completion. The members are James Strickland, John Allen, Ernest Dyson, Philip Atkins, James Dixon, and Charles Vaughn.

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.
