Smithsonian Institution
Freer Gallery of Art and Arthur M. Sackler Gallery

Charles Lang Freer's correspondence with Cameron Currie, 1901-1919

Extracted on Mar-29-2024 07:13:10

The Smithsonian Institution thanks all digital volunteers that transcribed and reviewed this material. Your work enriches Smithsonian collections, making them available to anyone with an interest in using them.

The Smithsonian Institution (the "Smithsonian") provides the content on this website (transcription.si.edu), other Smithsonian websites, and third-party sites on which it maintains a presence ("SI Websites") in support of its mission for the "increase and diffusion of knowledge." The Smithsonian invites visitors to use its online content for personal, educational and other non-commercial purposes. By using this website, you accept and agree to abide by the following terms.

- If sharing the material in personal and educational contexts, please cite the Freer Gallery of Art and Arthur M. Sackler Gallery as source of the content and the project title as provided at the top of the document. Include the accession number or collection name; when possible, link to the Freer Gallery of Art and Arthur M. Sackler Gallery website.
- If you wish to use this material in a for-profit publication, exhibition, or online project, please contact Freer Gallery of Art and Arthur M. Sackler Gallery or transcribe@si.edu as of Johnson had given me a left-hander. The sight, however, is improving, and notwithstanding a sty added insult to injury, I am hoping to see clearly again within two or three days.

For more information on this project and related material, contact the Freer Gallery of Art and Arthur M. Sackler Gallery. See this project and other collections in the Smithsonian Transcription Center.

About the first of November I expect to go to New York for a stay of two or three days, and shortly thereafter to return to Detroit, as I am told that my house is likely to be fit for occupation again ^[[before]] November the 10th.

With kindest messages to all inquiring friends, and with affection to yourself,

Ever sincerely yours,

[[signed]] Charles [[/signed]]

^[[Miss Letch sends you many kind messages]]

CC--Page 3 Oct.20,1911.

as if Johnson had given me a left-hander. The sight, however, is improving, and notwithstanding a sty added insult to injury, I am hoping to see clearly again within two or three days.

About the first of November I expect to go to New York for a stay of two or three days, and shortly thereafter to return to Detroit, as I am told that my house is likely to be fit for occupation again before November the 10th.

With kindest messages to all inquiring friends, and with affection to yourself,

Ever sincerely yours,

Charles

Miss Letch sends you many kind messages.

Charles Lang Freer's correspondence with Cameron Currie, 1901-1919
Transcribed and Reviewed by Digital Volunteers
Extracted Mar-29-2024 07:13:10

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities.Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.

Join us!
The Transcription Center: https://transcription.si.edu
On Facebook: https://www.facebook.com/SmithsonianTranscriptionCenter
On Twitter: @TranscribeSI

Connect with the Smithsonian
Smithsonian Institution: www.si.edu
On Facebook: https://www.facebook.com/Smithsonian
On Twitter: @smithsonian