

Smithsonian Institution

Freer Gallery of Art and Arthur M. Sackler Gallery

Charles Lang Freer's correspondence with Cameron Currie, 1901-1919

Extracted on Mar-29-2024 01:15:06

The Smithsonian Institution thanks all digital volunteers that transcribed and reviewed this material. Your work enriches Smithsonian collections, making them available to anyone with an interest in using them.

The Smithsonian Institution (the "Smithsonian") provides the content on this website (transcription.si.edu), other Smithsonian websites, and third-party sites on which it maintains a presence ("SI Websites") in support of its mission for the "increase and diffusion of knowledge." The Smithsonian invites visitors to use its online content for personal, educational and other non-commercial purposes. By using this website, you accept and agree to abide by the following terms.

- If sharing the material in personal and educational contexts, please cite the Freer Gallery of Art and Arthur M. Sackler Gallery as source of the content and the project title as provided at the top of the document. Include the accession number or collection name; when possible, link to the Freer Gallery of Art and Arthur M. Sackler Gallery website.
- If you wish to use this material in a for-profit publication, exhibition, or online project, please contact Freer Gallery of Art and Arthur M. Sackler Gallery or transcribe@si.edu

For more information on this project and related material, contact the Freer Gallery of Art and Arthur M. Sackler Gallery. See this project and other collections in the Smithsonian Transcription Center.

Great Barrington, Mass., July 10, 1913.

Cameron Currie, Esq.,
Yondotega Club,
Detroit, Michigan.

Dear Cam:

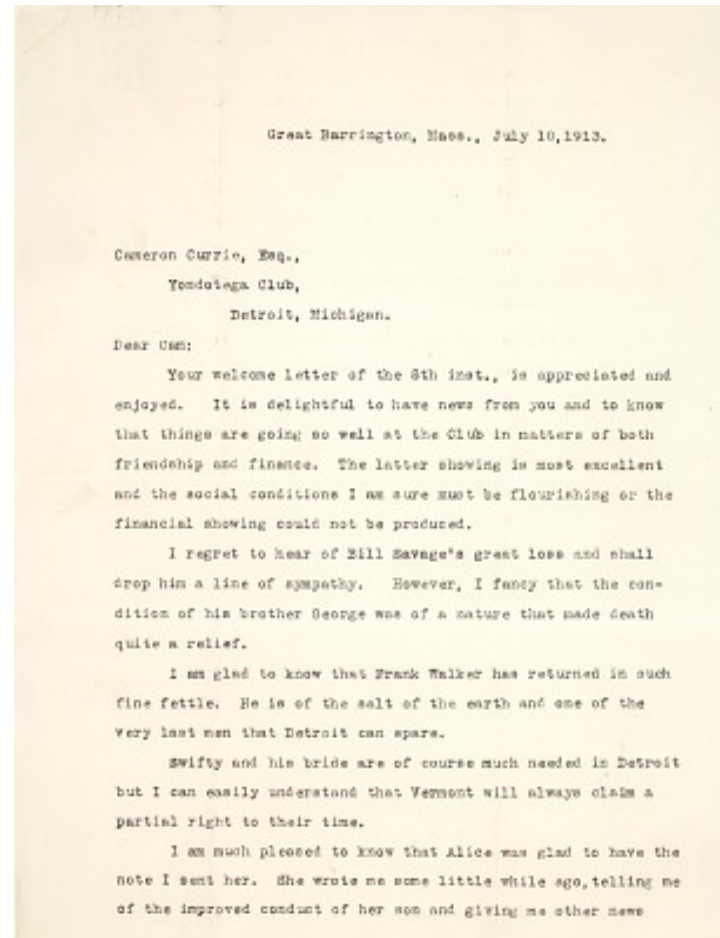

Your welcome letter of the 8th inst., is appreciated and enjoyed. It is delightful to have news from you and to know that things are going so well at the Club in matters of both friendship and finance. The latter showing is most excellent and the social conditions I am sure must be flourishing or the financial showing could not be produced.

I regret to hear of Bill Savage's great loss and shall drop him a line of sympathy. However, I fancy that the condition of his brother George was of a nature that made death quite a relief.

I am glad to know that Frank Walker had returned in such fine fettle. He is of the salt of the earth and one of the very last men that Detroit can spare.

Swiftly and his bride are of course much needed in Detroit but I can easily understand that Vermont will always claim a partial right to their time.

I am much pleased to know that Alice was glad to have the note I sent her. She wrote me some little while ago, telling me of the improved conduct of her son and giving me other news

Charles Lang Freer's correspondence with Cameron Currie, 1901-1919
Transcribed and Reviewed by Digital Volunteers
Extracted Mar-29-2024 01:15:06

Smithsonian Institution

Freer Gallery of Art and Arthur M. Sackler Gallery

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.

Join us!

The Transcription Center: <https://transcription.si.edu>

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/SmithsonianTranscriptionCenter>

On Twitter: @TranscribeSI

Connect with the Smithsonian

Smithsonian Institution: www.si.edu

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/Smithsonian>

On Twitter: @smithsonian