from Cairo, I judge some very important things are awaiting me there.

The Sanadano collection, the best private one in all Egypt, which I inspected in Alexandria last year, and out of which I was allowed then to make some fine purchases, which later they would not deliver, now is again offered to me. This time I am told they will deliver all that I selected last year. If this is true, I will get some perfect Egyptian objects- but they will cost a lot of money. However, I shall not count my chickens until they stand upon their feet.

I met Mrs. Will Croul[[?]] and Rowena at the Wallace Colln. yesterday they both seemed very well. Trusting that you and yours are enjoying the best of health.

Very sincerely,
Charles L. Freer

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.
