I would like it.

And then after their courtesy and business methods - which are excellent - the "exchange" loses its bitterness.

They "boss" banking out here, and the poor International seems very pigmy in comparison.

Again many thanks to you -

Very sincerely yours,
Charles L. Freer

The Shanghai climate is still "off" - hot, sticky and typhooish!

A handwritten letter on aged, cream-colored paper. The text is written in a cursive script with dark ink. The letter is a response to a letter from Frank Hecker, expressing appreciation for his courtesy and business methods, and comparing the local banking situation to the International Bank. The letter concludes with a signature and a note about the Shanghai climate.
